25 ASINs to Request First

Big-name brands · From my 2027 AutoUngating Master List

Hi, I'm Harrison.

These 25 ASINs come from my AutoUngating Master List. It's a sheet of 1,839 ASINs where sellers in our community got approved with one click and no invoice.

For this guide I picked 25 rows from brands people already know, like Starbucks, Coca-Cola, Mattel and Crayola, so you can start today.

Restrictions are different for every account, so some of these won't open for you. That's normal. Work down the list.

How to use it

- 1 Log in to Seller Central first. Use the account you sell from. Then come back to this list.
- 2 Tap "Request approval" on a row. The link opens Amazon's own request page for that ASIN. If Amazon approves you right there, check the box and go to the next row.
- 3 If Amazon asks for an invoice or documents, close the page. Don't send an empty or half-finished application. An open request can get your next one declined. Move on to the next row.

Declined after you applied? Reply inside the same case in Seller Central. Don't click "Reapply", because a new request for the same thing can be declined automatically.

Every link goes to Amazon's request page in Seller Central (sellercentral.amazon.com). You need to be logged in for it to work.

None of them opened for you?

It happens. Amazon sets restrictions account by account, so the same ASIN can open for one seller and ask another for documents.

When one-click approvals run out, the way in is an invoice. Amazon trusts a B2B invoice from an authorized distributor most. In my own approvals that meant 10 units of a low-cost product, an invoice with the exact address in my Seller Central, and clear photos of the units.

That method is the core of my 2027 guide. It covers 6 gated categories with one distributor and no resale certificate, plus Step 7 for when Amazon declines you.

This is 25 of 1,839.

The full AutoUngating Master List is part of the Ungated Seller System. Every row links to Amazon's request page and has counters for approved, rejected and pending, so you can track what opened for you. You also get:

- My 2027 guide, with the 7 steps for 6 gated categories
- 545 U.S. wholesale suppliers in one database, across 22 categories
- 4 cheat sheets (Toys, Activewear, Automotive, Starbucks) and the POA & Suspension Appeal Kit

Relaunch price: $97, one payment, until Oct 31, 2026, 11:59 pm ET. Then $147.
